Moderate track

Starting from the car park at the end of Morialta Falls Road, Woodforde, this walk leads to Deep View Lookout and back via the Banksia Trail. This short and quick return trail starts by crossing the bridge over Fourth Creek, continuing for about 30 metres. At this point, walkers have the option of going straight ahead for a more leisurely walk which offers spectacular views and lots of wildflowers. If you're up for more of a challenge, take the trail to your right instead. The hike climbs steeply up towards the northern ridge to reach Deep View Lookout. There are some steep sections, but once up on the ridge, it's a pleasant walk back down again. Sturdy walking shoes are recommended, as the trail is very rough in places. Let us begin by acknowledging the Traditional Custodians of the land on which we travel today, and pay our respects to their Elders past and present.

Getting started: Starting from the end of Morialta Falls Road, head towards the roofed area with informative signposts and seats along the wide dirt path. Then turn left and go across the wooden bridge with green metal railings, moving directly away from the seated area. Veer left and follow the dirt track gently uphill for about 40 meters until you come to a signpost with green directional signs with some steps behind it. From this point you can take the steps turning right to enter the shorter but steeper track, or continue straight for a longer but less challenging track also offering you satisfying views and lots of wildflowers. Both tracks will lead you to Deep View Lookout.
