Starting from the Lakeview car park off Indian Ocean Drive, Yanchep, this walk takes you on a circuit around Loch McNess via the Wetlands Walk Trail. This beautiful, short and easy walk weaves its way around Loch McNess, one of Perth's most important coastal wetlands. The path provides exceptional views of the wetlands as you meander along the banks of the lake. The birdlife in the area is incredible, and the park is a bird watcher's delight. The understory consists of bracken ferns, whilst the overstorey is mostly adult Jarrahs and Tuarts. Take your time and experience the soothing ambience of the place, both visually and audibly. The yanget (bullrushes) you may come across was once used for food by the Noongar people. The gravelly limestone trail is flat and well signposted, with short sections of loose sand. After finishing the loop, it's only a short walk to Chocolate Drops for a coffee or the Yanchep Inn for a refreshing ale or lunch. Let us begin by acknowledging the Traditional Custodians of the land on which we travel today, and pay our respects to their Elders past and present.

Getting started: From the Lakeview carpark off Indian Ocean Drive, Yanchep, head down the paved walkway for about 100m, passing an orange 'Tour Bookings', etc. sign (on the right). From the double-storied McNess House Visitors Centre, head towards the lake for about 100m along the sealed path directly in front of the house. Turn left onto the paved walkway just before a couple of park benches, and continue ahead for about 150m until you reach a 'Wetlands Walk Trail' sign. Follow the trail ahead, keeping Loch McNess to your right, and continue the Wetlands Walk Trail (clockwise).

Start.

Find the toilet at the start.

After another 100 m find the "McNess House Visitor Centre" (20 m on your right). You can book a park tour from here and buy some souvenirs to remember the trip by. This place was once (late 1800s) a stone hut but then converted into a hostel. Since 1997, this place serves as a visitor centre.

After another 10 m pass the cafe (60 m on your right).

Turn left.

After another 65 m turn left.

After another 65 m find the "Loch McNess" (50 m on your right). Loch McNess is a freshwater lake located near Yanchep. It is part of the Wanneroo wetlands, a chain of wetlands, swamps and lakes that occur on the Swan Coastal Plain. Originally known as Yanchep Lake, the lake was renamed Loch McNess in 1935 in honour of Sir Charles McNess's contribution to the development of Yanchep Reserve. The Nyoongar people call this lake "Wagardu Lark".

After another 170 m come to the viewpoint (15 m on your right).

After another 15 m continue straight.

After another 1 km veer right.

After another 115 m cross the bridge (about 15 m long)

After another 510 m cross the bridge (about 60 m long)

Start of an alternate access route: An alternate access point from/to the north of Yanchep Inn.

Start.

About 65 m past the end is a toilet.

The end.

After another 20 m turn right.

After another 80 m pass the toilet (5 m on your left).

After another 140 m continue straight.

After another 40 m pass the toilet (15 m on your left).

After another 70 m turn left.

After another 65 m turn right.

After another 7 m pass the "McNess House Visitors Centre" (7 m on your left).
